Citi named best cash management provider in CIS countries by Euromoney

Citi in Russia, Ukraine and Kazakhstan has been voted lead domestic cash management bank in the Euromoney's annual 2009 cash management poll.

Citi in Russia, Ukraine and Kazakhstan has been voted Lead Domestic Cash Management Bank in the Euromoney's Annual 2009 Cash Management Poll. In total, Citi received 24 country awards world-wide making it Cash Management Bank #1 globally for the third consecutive year.

The Poll was held among cash managers, treasurers and financial officers worldwide telling about the standard of international cash management services they receive from their banks. Survey respondents indicated which banks they currently use most for their cash management services globally, regionally and domestically and were also asked to rate services provided by their cash manager on a sliding scale.

Zdenek Turek, President ZAO Citibank, Head of Citi in Russia and CIS, noted: "We are thrilled that the industry recognizes Citi leadership in Russia, Ukraine and Kazakhstan for our cash management, treasury and trade solutions businesses. Winning this prestigious regional award is an important endorsement and a great vote of confidence in the value we bring to our clients. It is also a testament to our employees, who remain committed to provide the best business solutions to meet client's diverse and growing needs".

Citi is committed to providing clients with the most innovative tools and solutions, robust technology, and access to its unparalleled global network. As evidence of this, Citi is very proud of its high rankings in this year's Service Satisfaction Rankings within Euromoney's Annual 2009 Cash Management Poll. Most notably Citi tops the charts in Overall Service, Global Liquidity Capabilities, Innovative Payment/Collection Methods and Comprehensive Electronic Banking Capabilities.
