

April 12, 2004
Moscow

Citibank Russia Continues Expansion in Moscow with two new branches

ZAO Citibank Russia, a member of Citigroup, the preeminent global financial services company, today announced the launch of its two new financial centers in the country at 6, Tverskaya Street and 96, Liublinskaya Street.

Citibank, which this year celebrates its 10th anniversary in Russia, now has 6 financial centers, having already opened four financial centers and installed over 50 multi-functional ATM's in Moscow.

Open 7 days a week, each financial center is staffed by highly trained and expert bankers that can help customers save, invest and borrow thru a full range of products. At Citibank financial center one can not only apply for Citibank products such as personal accounts, personal installment loan or credit card but also get professional advice from personal banker who will develop individual financial plan for any customer. Each financial center features a 24H ATM, internet banking and phone banking kiosks.

Allan Hirst, Country Corporate Officer for Citibank Russia said, "Russia is a priority country for us. We are investing extensively in building financial centers in Moscow. The two new financial centers we are opening today will make it easier for consumers in Tverskaya Street and Mar'ino to access our products and services."

Nandan Mer, Consumer Business Manager for Citibank Russia said, "At the heart of our offering is a world-class set of products and services that help customers save and borrow for their short and long term financial needs. We put our customers money in their control by providing them 24-hour access to their accounts at a place of their convenience - home, office, in Russia or from anywhere in the world."