Citibank Opening Mini-Branch for ZAO International Paper Employees

A new branch is launched in Svetogorsk for the ZAO International Paper employees as part of the payroll project.

ZAO Citibank celebrated a new mini-branch in Leningrad region opening. The branch office is located on 1 Sportivnaya St. (Svetogorsk Hotel), Svetogorsk. The office will provide services to the employees of ZAO International Paper as part of the payroll project with the company. In addition to banking services available over the telephone and internet, the employees of ZAO International Paper will be able to enjoy the whole range of services and advice on banking services from Citibank staff. Business hours of the branch have been pre-agreed with the client.

Tatyana Konakova, Finance Director at ZAO International Paper, noted: "Employees of ZAO International Paper benefit from a wider range of services on the best conditions."

For the employees of ZAO International Paper, the mini-branch is an opportunity to get a full range of high-quality banking services right by their workplace. Over 2,000 company employees will be serviced by the mini-branch on an ongoing basis. The mini-branch will make it possible for the employees to resolve any current issues, clarify service terms, fill out and submit various forms and applications.

"The decision of Citibank to launch a mini-branch for the employees of ZAO International Paper confirms our commitment to going where our clients are and offering banking services of the highest industry standards," said Ruslan Belyaev, Director, Saint Petersburg Branch of ZAO Citibank.

The mini-branch zone includes an ATM that enables the company's employees as well as other branch visitors withdraw cash, pay utility and communication services bills, transfer funds between the client's accounts, check account balances, and get statements on recent transactions.
